

Visit Vermont Summer Festival

East Dorset, Vermont

Each summer, equestrian activity descends on a small town in Vermont. Horse trailers become a familiar piece of the landscape and boots and breeches become a recognizable fashion statement. For six weeks each summer, names synonymous with international success travel to attend the Vermont Summer Festival.

Exhibitors and spectators alike flock to the rolling hills in order to watch some of the best competition in New England, but that isn't all this area has to offer. With incredible dining, a wide array of outdoor activities, and unbeatable shopping, the Manchester, Vermont area truly offers something for everybody. So whether you are packing up the trailer for the summer season or packing up the car to attend the weekly Grand Prix, make sure that the Vermont Summer Festival is a part of your New England summer experience.
