Staying Positive in Uncertain Times

What a difference a month can make. Lately, it seems as if the news of COVID-19’s impact on our world is a constant stream that never seems to end. We here at Days End Farm Horse Rescue, Inc. have endured a difficult situation over the past few months, but because of the strength and resilience of our support network, we are optimistic about the future.

Because of you, we have been able to rely on your generosity. Thoughtful donations to help us weather this difficult time have made all the difference.

Here at DEFHR, we have followed the State of Maryland’s guidelines regarding onsite volunteering and personal visits to the farm. For the first time in our history, we have suspended all volunteers from physically volunteering on the property in accordance with the state’s Stay-At-Home Order. Staff that are not directly involved with animal care and some volunteers are working remotely, leveraging creative and innovative ways to carry on our mission without your loyalty and support, but together with your help, we will continue to make a difference in the lives of abused and neglected horses.

We have been able to maintain the same level of excellence you have come to expect. As you make decisions regarding what to do during this time of uncertainty, it might be comforting to know that despite the challenges we face, we remain positive for the future. Days End Farm Horse Rescue, Inc. will keep our organization running and our supporters engaged.

For more information on some of these changes we’ve introduced here at DEFHR, please read our Facebook page and local out-of-box news you can connect with.

For some fun information on some of the changes we introduced here at DEFHR, please join our Facebook page.

Here’s a little fun fact to start your day:

Which might be the right fit for you?

Receive our email newsletter

Harlow is a 9-year-old, 14.3-hand Quarter Horse gelding. Even though he has only one eye, he is a well-trained, happy-go-lucky, fun-loving horse. He’s quite the gentle soul and is a joy to be around.

Starbucks from DEFHR several years ago, and together they’ve accomplished so many goals — including bridle-less jumping. So far, their record is 4’3”!

Horse Network. Larisa adopted Starbucks from DEFHR and featured her in the “Transformation Tuesday” column with Days End Farm Horse Rescue, Inc. at no cost to you! In total, AmazonSmile has donated $7,700.00 to Days End Farm Horse Rescue, Inc.

In the News

In the News

New Job Alert: Internships

Defend End Horse Rescue has new positions available. Check it out! Here are some positions.

Featured Horse of the Month: King Kalvin

In honor of the 30th anniv. since founding Days End Horse Rescue, Inc., we had a special look at our horses.

King Kalvin is a 14-year-old, 16.1-hand, Quarter Horse gelding. Gotta say he’s one of the most laid-back and charming horses you’ll ever meet. He’s the perfect partner for riders who want to maintain a low-key approach to riding. And his record speaks for itself.

Patricia, a 33-year-old mare

Dressage Today magazine shared the story of Patricia, a 33-year-old mare with a difficult history. Patricia was recently adopted to find her forever home. Patricia will never have to live in a stall again, and she will be able to enjoy the days she deserves as a loving pet. It’s never too late to find that special connection that will give you joy. You could be the one to make a difference in her life.

Join our Team

If you’re interested in a career or volunteer opportunity, please email edaily@jumpmediallc.com.

We’re Hiring!

Feature

For now, the farm is closed off to the public and the office personnel are currently working from home.

For more information on some of these changes we can introduce here at DEFHR, please join our Facebook page.

We have never been more grateful for your loyalty and support. We are so happy to see you and wish it was an easier time to visit our facility and give you a true look at the farm. We know what it’s like to be an avid equestrian, but we just can’t open our doors to the public at this time.

Share the love!

Check our Facebook page.

We hope will not be canceled.

Due to the COVID-19 virus, we have distributed a Facebook page to the public and we have created a YouTube page and local out-of-box news you can connect with.

Though the farm itself is closed to the public, stay tuned to our

For the first time in our history, we have suspended all volunteers from physically volunteering on the property in accordance with the state’s Stay-At-Home Order. Staff that are not directly involved with animal care and some volunteers are working remotely, leveraging creative and innovative ways to carry on our mission without your loyalty and support, but together with your help, we will continue to make a difference in the lives of abused and neglected horses.

Days End Farm Horse Rescue, Inc. is a registered 501(c)(3) non-profit organization.

www.DEFHR.org

This might be the right fit for you?

Receive our email newsletter

Harlow is a 9-year-old, 14.3-hand Quarter Horse gelding. Even though he has only one eye, he is a well-trained, happy-go-lucky, fun-loving horse. He’s quite the gentle soul and is a joy to be around.

Starbucks from DEFHR several years ago, and together they’ve accomplished so many goals — including bridle-less jumping. So far, their record is 4’3”!

Horse Network. Larisa adopted Starbucks from DEFHR and featured her in the “Transformation Tuesday” column with Days End Farm Horse Rescue, Inc. at no cost to you! In total, AmazonSmile has donated $7,700.00 to Days End Farm Horse Rescue, Inc.

In the News

New Job Alert: Internships

Defend End Horse Rescue has new positions available. Check it out! Here are some positions.

Featured Horse of the Month: King Kalvin

In honor of the 30th anniv. since founding Days End Horse Rescue, Inc., we had a special look at our horses.

King Kalvin is a 14-year-old, 16.1-hand, Quarter Horse gelding. Gotta say he’s one of the most laid-back and charming horses you’ll ever meet. He’s the perfect partner for riders who want to maintain a low-key approach to riding. And his record speaks for itself.

Patricia, a 33-year-old mare

Dressage Today magazine shared the story of Patricia, a 33-year-old mare with a difficult history. Patricia was recently adopted to find her forever home. Patricia will never have to live in a stall again, and she will be able to enjoy the days she deserves as a loving pet. It’s never too late to find that special connection that will give you joy. You could be the one to make a difference in her life.

Join our Team

If you’re interested in a career or volunteer opportunity, please email edaily@jumpmediallc.com.

We’re Hiring!

Feature

For now, the farm is closed off to the public and the office personnel are currently working from home.

For more information on some of these changes we can introduce here at DEFHR, please join our Facebook page.

We have never been more grateful for your loyalty and support. We are so happy to see you and wish it was an easier time to visit our facility and give you a true look at the farm. We know what it’s like to be an avid equestrian, but we just can’t open our doors to the public at this time.

Share the love!

Check our Facebook page.

We hope will not be canceled.

Due to the COVID-19 virus, we have distributed a Facebook page to the public and we have created a YouTube page and local out-of-box news you can connect with.

Though the farm itself is closed to the public, stay tuned to our