Sponsor of the Month: Shoo-fly

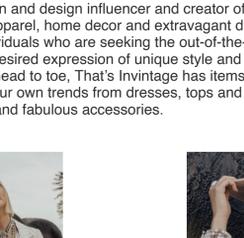

Manufacturer of the Ideal Insecticides & Automatic Insect Control Systems

World Equestrian Center is pleased to have Shoo-fly as part of the family of sponsors at the World Equestrian Center – Wilmington venue. Company founder Charles "Chuck" Hudson was a salesperson, visiting local farms to distribute fertilizers, weed killers and other agricultural business essentials. Through his work he discovered the need for flying insect control within the barns and set out to develop a prototype. The first Shoo-fly master unit was installed in December 1979 at Double Diamond Farm in Ocala, FL.

Chuck still leads Shoo-fly operations today, constantly improving his products. He is committed to examining and selecting only the most reliable and well-made components for Shoo-fly automatic insect control systems, like brass and stainless-steel nozzles, high PSI nylon tubing with compression fittings and a 24-hour programmable digital timer that is extremely user-friendly. The result is that many Shoo-fly systems have been in continuous operation for decades and are still going strong.
