

2022 ROYAL HORSE SHOW—Toronto, Ontario

The Royal Horse Show, held as part of the iconic Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, celebrated its 100th anniversary November 4–12, 2022, in Toronto, Canada. This year's event featured an elevated CSI5*-W FEI rating, offered more than $1 million in prize money and hosted riders from 11 countries, including three of the top 10 in the Longines World Rankings. Ireland's Daniel Coyle and Legacy, owned by Ariel Grange of Canada, were victorious in the coveted $250,000 Longines FEI Jumping World Cup™ Toronto in front of a sold-out crowd of more than 7,000 spectators. Daniel and Legacy were the only pair to produce double-clear rounds over the track set by Canadian course designer Michel Vaillancourt to take the win over Daniel Bluman of Israel and Canada's own Tiffany Foster. Staying true to its tradition of excellence, The Royal entertained audiences with a blockbuster schedule of competition across a variety of disciplines including hunters, jumpers, equitation and heavy horses, as well as daily performances of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) Musical Ride.

1. Taylor Brooks and Spectre won the $25,000 Knightwood Hunter Derby to claim the Canadian Hunter Derby Reserve Championship title. Photo by Ben Radvanyi Photography
2. Speed demons McLain Ward and Catoki flew to the top of the leaderboard in the $38,000 McKee Family International Challenge. Photo by Ben Radvanyi Photography
3. Egypt's Nayel Nassar exited the Coca-Cola Coliseum with a smile after winning the $74,000 Centennial Cup in his Royal debut. 4. Nicholas Dello Joio of the United States gave the crowd a thumbs up to celebrate his first Royal Horse Show win in the fan-favorite $138,000 Big Ben Challenge aboard Cornet's Cambridge. 5. United States Olympic team gold medalist Laura Kraut piloted Calgary Tame to top honors in the $38,000 Brickenden Trophy on Thursday, November 10. 6. Ireland's Daniel Coyle and Legacy, owned by Ariel Grange, were the only pair to jump double clear to win the $250,000 Longines FEI Jumping World Cup™ Toronto on closing night of the 2022 Royal Horse Show.
7. Esme Chapman riding Melbourne Z won the CET Medal National Final. Photo by Ben Radvanyi Photography 8. Kent Farrington of the United States and Landon flying over The Royal 100th anniversary fence in front of a sold-out crowd during the $250,000 Longines FEI Jumping World Cup™ Toronto. 9. Strawberry blondes Brian Moggre and Oh My Star van Strytem shared a quiet moment at the FEI horse inspection. 10. Lauren Esdale and Viamdios d'Avril claimed the Under 25 National Championship honors on the final day of competition. Photo by Ben Radvanyi Photography 11. Ian Gaudio and Goldstar K enjoy their Sidelines magazine.

Photos by Jump Media, unless noted otherwise