

USET Foundation's U.S. Show Jumping Pathway Programs Reception

TRIPLE M FARM, WELLINGTON, FL • JANUARY 20, 2023

The USET Foundation, Kristi Mitchem, and Tom Mawhinney host reception

U.S. SHOW JUMPING Chef d'Equipe Robert Ridland, Chef d'Equipe for the U.S. Show Jumping Development program Anne Kursinski, and US Equestrian (USEF) Managing Director of U.S. Show Jumping Lizzy Chesson led conversations about the U.S. Show Jumping High Performance Pathway Programs to inform young jumping athletes and their parents about the opportunities available to them. ∞

PHOTOS: JUMP MEDIA

1 Augusta Iwasaki, Caroline Mawhinney, Mimi Gochman, and Mia Albelo • 2 Carly Anthony, Coco Fath, Elizabeth Fath, USET Foundation Executive Director Bonnie Jenkins, Robin Parsky, event host Kristi Mitchem, and Carol Bonnie • 3 Olympic show jumping silver medalist and Chef d'Equipe for the U.S. Show Jumping Development program Anne Kursinski • 4 Caroline Mawhinney • 5 Olympic show jumping gold medalist Beezie Madden

6 USEF Managing Director of U.S. Show Jumping Lizzy Chesson
7 U.S. Show Jumping Chef d'Equipe Robert Ridland

8 Young jumping athletes and their parents learned about the U.S. Show Jumping High Performance Pathway Programs that will assist in their development and trajectory toward representing the U.S. on the greatest international stages • 9 Erin Gibbs, U.S. Show Jumping Chef d'Equipe Robert Ridland, and Dominic Gibbs