MARTHA W. JOLICOEUR

When it comes to real estate and equestrian sport, Martha W. Jolicoeur has successfully combined two passions into one. A former grand prix competitor, the same qualities that made Martha successful in the competition arena – tenacity, loyalty, and dependability – have made her one of the equestrian community’s top-ranked real estate agents.

Martha’s love of competition is only surpassed by the thrill of matching people with a home that truly fits their lifestyle. Hard-working and honest, Martha’s well-deserved reputation has earned her a loyal clientele among the biggest names in equestrian sport.

Licensed since 1991 and a full-time Wellington, FL, resident since 2005, Martha has personally witnessed Wellington’s transformation into the “Winter Equestrian Capital of the World.” An active member of the equestrian community, she has proudly sponsored the iconic Winter Equestrian Festival and its Leading Lady Rider Award for many years.

A Director of Luxury Sales with Douglas Elliman’s Sports and Entertainment division, Martha is consistently one of the company’s top performers. Whether it’s buying or selling a farm, estate, or home, Martha’s extensive knowledge and success rate makes her the realtor you want on your team.
