

What's in This Newsletter

PALM BEACH EQUINE CLINIC

- Meet Allison Schatzley
- PBEC in the Media
- Wellington Winners
- Wellington's Premier Sport Horse Facility

Meet Allison Schatzley, Hospital Technician

Hailing from Minnesota, Allison Schatzley has been an avid horse lover since she was small and has worked in the industry since she graduated from the University of Wisconsin. She joined the Palm Beach Equine Clinic (PBEC) team in the fall of 2023.

Where are you from?

I'm originally from Minnesota and completed my undergraduate degree in animal science equine management with an emphasis on animal nutrition at the University of Wisconsin-River Falls.

What is your background with horses?

I've been riding since I can remember, and I worked at barns cleaning stalls through high school and college. After I graduated, I pursued a career in equine nutrition, helping owners feed their horses according to their goals, such as performance, weight loss, and weight gain.

What brought you to PBEC?

A little over a year ago, I decided I needed a change. I missed being directly involved with equine care and searched for a job that could fulfill that. I found PBEC and thought I could utilize my background to augment the patient care.

What does your job involve?

A typical day involves assessing the patients I've been assigned for the day, performing treatments at their scheduled times, such as administering medications, changing standing wraps, grooming, and helping doctors with their procedures on the hospital patients. When we get an emergency in, I'll pull blood for lab work, place the catheter, hang the fluids, or prep them for surgery if need be.

Read More

PBEC in the Media

Dr. Chris Elliott Is on Top of His Game

There are few world events that match the anticipation and excitement of the Olympic Games. Through hard work and tenacity, Dr. Chris Elliott has now managed to utilize his skills in vet medicine to attend the past four of them.

Read More

Ultimate Guide to Ulcers

Peter Heidmann, DVM, a board-certified internal medicine specialist, and Bryan Dubynsky, DVM, a sport horse medicine specialist, of Palm Beach Equine Clinic in Wellington, FL, are both experienced in identifying, treating, and helping owners prevent equine ulcers.

Read More

Wellington Winners

Congratulations go out to recent winners at Wellington International, including Marie Hecart (FRA) and Vahinee (below), owned by Normandie Connection, winners of the $20,000 Palm Beach Equine Clinic Grand Prix at the ESP November show. They were joined in the presentation by Dr. Christina Braun representing PBEC.

At the ESP Pre-Charity Show, Olympian Will Simpson (USA) and Chacco P were fastest to win the $32,000 FEI 1.45m Speed CSI3*, pictured below in his winning presentation with Dr. Chris Elliott.

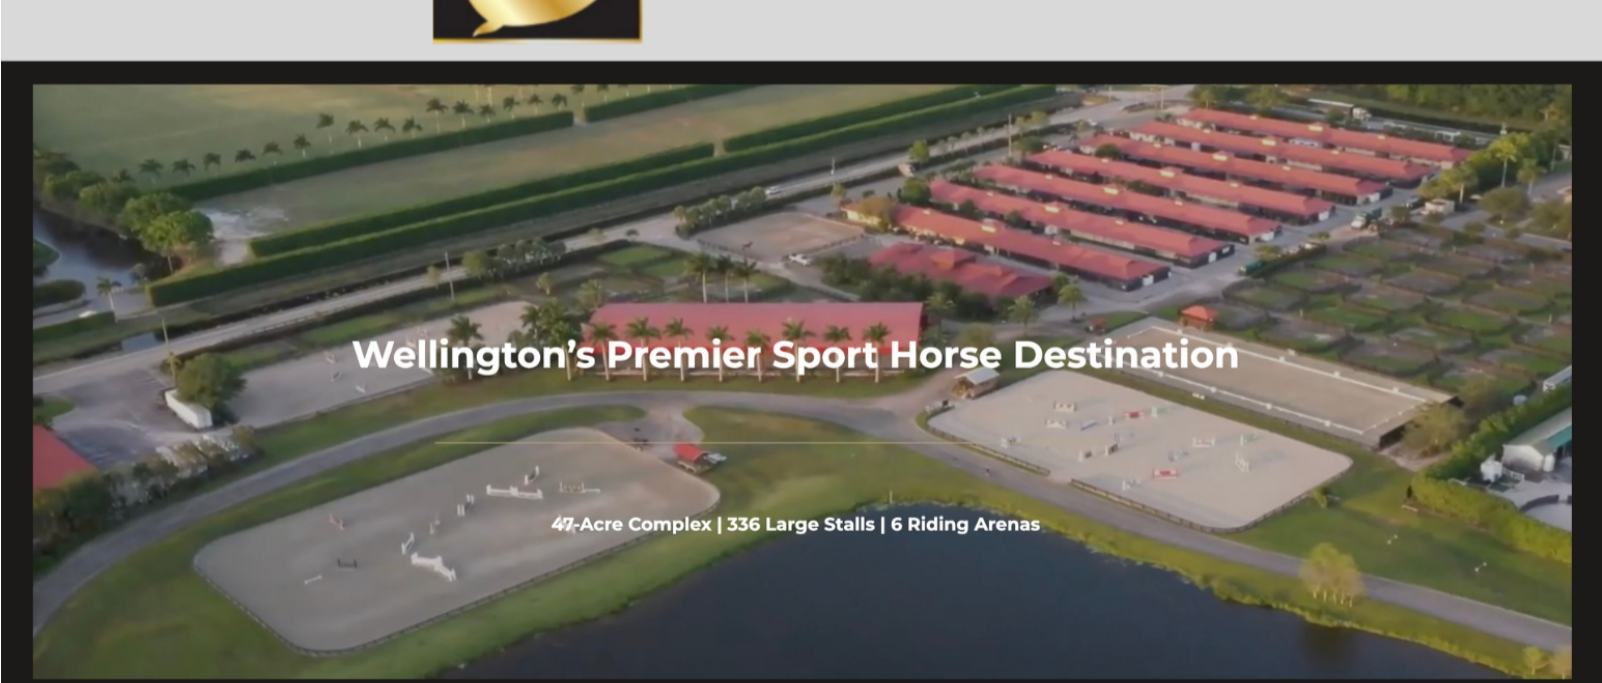

Photos © Sportfot

Don't Miss This Rare Opportunity!

Keep your horses at the prestigious Palm Beach Equine Sports Complex (PBESC) this winter. With 45 acres of top-notch amenities located steps from the Global Dressage Festival and minutes from the Winter Equestrian Festival, PBESC offers an unbeatable price point for the ultimate equestrian experience in Wellington.

Palm Beach Equine Sports Complex

With more than 45 acres of top-notch amenities located steps from the Global Dressage Festival and minutes from WEF, PBESC offers an unbeatable price point for the ultimate equestrian experience in Wellington.

Enjoy These Amenities

- 3 hunter/jumper rings
- 3/4-mile private track
- 3 dressage rings with mirrors and covered arena
- On-site laundry
- Private lounge with club-like atmosphere
- Next door to Palm Beach Equine Clinic, with 24/7 emergency care

Palm Beach Equine Sports Complex is where passion meets excellence. Spots are filling fast — call Melissa Brusie today at 561-635-2661 to secure your place in this elite equestrian community! Learn more at www.PalmBeachEquineSportsComplex.com.

Learn More

Palm Beach Equine Clinic: Make Us a Part of Your Team

